Blood Donation Camp

Chettinad College of Engineering and Technology in Karur successfully organised a blood donation camp in partnership with the Government Medical College Hospital on November 9, 2023. Chettinad Tech's social welfare clubs and the hospital's medical team collaborated to conduct this event dedicated to a noble cause.

Dr. A. Punitha, the Principal, inaugurated the camp and expressed appreciation for the donors and volunteers for their valuable service. Chettinad Tech students, through their active participation, contributed 53 units of blood, making a substantial impact on saving lives and supporting the healthcare system.

The success of the camp can be attributed to the effective coordination between the social welfare club coordinators and the unwavering support from the management, Principal, and Administrative Officer. This blood donation initiative played a vital role in addressing blood shortages and providing support to those in need.

The efforts of everyone involved are truly praiseworthy, and their dedication to this cause is highly commendable. Kudos to the organisers, donors, volunteers, and everyone who supported this event!
